Acknowledgements

Versions of parts of this book have been published in the following journals, and are reprinted with permission: The “glasse” of majesty: reflections on new historicism and cultural materialism’, Angelaki, 2:2 (1996); ‘Multiple submissions and little scrolls of parchment: censorship, knowledge, and the academy’, New Literary History, 28:3 (1997); ‘Bringing criticism to account: economy, exchange and cultural theory’, Economy and Society, 26:3 (1997); ‘Surviving theory, “as if I[t] were dead”: Derrida and interdisciplinarity’, new formations, 34 (1998).

I would like to thank Gary Hall, Geoffrey Hemstedt and Graham MacPhee for their interest in my work over the years, and Matthew Frost at Manchester University Press for his enthusiasm and his support in the publication of this book. Thanks also to Jo Acres and Jamie Freeman for listening, and to Lisa Wortham for everything else.