

Contents

PREFACE—vi
ABBREVIATIONS—viii

INTRODUCTION
LOCATING JOHN TOLAND—I

PART I
REPUBLICS OF LEARNING—23

- 1 ‘The traffick of books’: libraries, friends and conversation—25
- 2 Publishing reason: John Toland and print and scribal communities—45
  - 3 Reading Scripture: the reception of Christianity not mysterious, 1696–1702—69

- PART II
THE WAR AGAINST TYRANNY AND PREJUDICE—91
- 4 Editing the republic: Milton, Harrington and the Williamite monarchy, 1698–1714—93
  - 5 Anglia libera: Protestant liberties and the Hanoverian succession, 1700–14—116
  - 6 Sapere aude: ‘commonwealth’ politics under George I, 1714–22—141

- PART III
SUBVERSIVE LEARNING—165
- 7 Respublica mosaica: impostors, legislators and civil religion—167
  - 8 De studio theologia: patristic erudition and the attack on Scripture—190
  - 9 ‘A complete history of priestcraft’: the Druids and the origins of ancient virtue—213

CONCLUSION
WRITING ENLIGHTENMENT—236

SELECT TOLANDIANA—257
INDEX—260